☑ Small Paws® Rescue has saved the lives of 21 Bichons with heart murmurs. They each had life-saving surgery to correct their heart murmurs and today are living normal happy lives!

☑ Small Paws® Rescue has been featured on the cable network Animal Planet for the past 4 years, and reruns of the episode still continue today.

☑ Small Paws® Rescue is frequently invited to speak at national functions to further educate the public about the need for breed rescue organizations to exist, the importance of spaying and neutering your pet, and the suffering that continues daily in the puppy mills of America.

OUR VISION: We hope to see a day when there is no longer a market for puppies sold in the pet shops of America. Then, and only then, will the suffering endured by thousands of companion animals in the puppy mills of America cease.

The mission of Small Paws® Rescue Inc., a charitable, federal not-for-profit organization, is to rescue and supply any Bichon Frise or Bichon mix, nationwide, regardless of age or medical condition, with love, shelter, food, human companionship, medical care, and spay-neuter services through local veterinarians until permanent placement is secured into a prescreened loving home.

Small Paws® Rescue, Inc., is a Federal Not-For-Profit
Animal Rescue Organization, 501(C)(3).

What We Do

We feel that Small Paws® Rescue is 30% about the dogs and 70% about the way that the dogs affect the people. We feel that when we place a rescue Bichon we touch a PERSON in a way that they will never, ever be the same.

OUR VISION: We hope to see a day when there is no longer a market for puppies sold in the pet shops of America. Then, and only then, will the suffering endured by thousands of companion animals in the puppy mills of America cease.

Marcie, a fluffy, white Bichon Frise born in a Missouri puppy mill, was born with a heart murmur. Her chances for a happy life were slim until she was saved by Small Paws® Rescue, a group dedicated to saving any unwanted or unloved Bichon Frise.

Our goal is to ensure that no Bichon Frise is forced to live his or her life in a puppy mill or needlessly euthanized anywhere in America because of the lack of medical care or an available, loving home.

Our volunteers are willing to foster, transport, or otherwise assist in this massive rescue effort.
